DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

1. Claims 25-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The limitation of claim 25 which states "... tank having said wire cloth at one of its boundaries," is not supported by the original specification

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 25-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 25 the phrase "the tank having said wire cloth at one of its boundaries," is vague and confusing, because it is unclear if the cloth is part of the housing or a part adjacent to the tank or in the vicinity of it, i.e., what are the boundaries of the tank?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 1731

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

6. Claims 1, 4-6, 23-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over TAPPI test Method T 205 Om-81 or Kline, in "Paper and Paperboard Manufacturing Fundamentals."

Regarding claims 1, 4-6 and 23-28, the TAPPI test shows the making of handsheets where it is shown that fibers are mixed with water to form an slurry which can be further diluted in water while stirring and then put on a wire, pressed and then dried, see procedures and sheetmaking in page 2. Kline in pages 15-17, shows the mixing and dilution of the fibers to form a paper, along with other process steps required to form such paper, see figure 1.1. Even though they, (the TAPPI test and Kline), are silent regarding how the pulp and the water are mixed, i.e., it only says that the sample is diluted to disintegrate. One of ordinary skill in the art would recognize that this can be done mainly by a) diluting the pulp first and then disintegrating; b) by adding the pulp to the tank/stirrer adding water and then stirring or; c) by adding water to the tank, stirring the water and then adding the pulp to the stirred water. Even though the first method is the most used one of ordinary skill in the art would recognize the third alternative as a viable, obvious alternative for the pulp diluting process.

Note that it has been held that "[A] preamble is not a limitation if it merely states a purpose or intended use and the remainder of the claim completely defines the invention." See Diversitech Corp. vs. Century Steps Inc., 7 USPQ 2d 1315 (Fed. Cir. 1988).

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 2-3 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action.
8. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art does not teach nor suggest the stirring mechanisms above the wire cloth.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 4-6 and 23-28 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure in the art of "Making discontinuous paper bodies."
